VOTE OF WOMEN
IMPORTANT IN FALL ELECTION

Present Indications Are That
Large Majority Will Vote
Republican Ticket

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 27.—About 8,000,000 women will vote in November election, and they are likely to hold the balance of political power. This statement is based on a computation made from the women's vote in the Maine election.

About 3,000,000 women voted in the Maine election. Based upon the percentage of men that number is 32 per cent of the number of women 21 years of age who live in Maine. The total women number, according to computations, 248,000.

In the United States, according to most recent statistics, there are 26,000,000 women of voting age. If the 32 per cent which voted in the Maine election prevails in all the states and it probably will, as the women generally will want to vote for the first time, there will be cast in the November election an aggregate woman vote of 8,602,741, or nearly 3,000,000. In the northern states the percentage probably will be higher, and in the southern states lower because in the "solid south" the black man is largely enfranchised and the negro woman will receive the same political discrimination in most sections; and the nation's average probably will be about 32 per cent, which will give nine millions.

There can be no question but that the women now hold the key to the national political situation and can give victory to Republicans or Democrats. Judging from the way they voted in the Maine election it would seem that a great majority of the newly enfranchised citizens are going to line up throughout the country, except in the south, for Coolidge.

Any intelligent observer must see that the result in Maine was complete repudiation of the League of Nations by the women, and a tremendous Republican victory, which bodes well for Democratic defeat in November. Women can justly claim a share of the victory in Maine. Had the women voted for the League of Nations, the victory would have been equally significant of Democratic victory in November.
